NORTHWEST MISSOURI STATE COLLEGE

VOL. 47—NO. 1

Maryville, Mo.

September 12, 1960

President J. W. Jones is shown presenting the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council scholarship trophies for 1957-58 to Eva Lee Hess, Tri-Sigs; and Larry Sheldon, Phi Sigs. Who'll win this year? "Scholarship pays off at NWMSC."

President Jones Extends Welcome to Students

I am happy to welcome you to another school year. If we have learned anything in the postwar years, it is that each generation has had to learn for itself.

Freedom is not a gift but a hard earned right. Our college bears over its main entrance the words of Christ, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you FREE." The administration and faculty of Northwest Missouri State College believe in that saying and do their best to make the truth available.

Upon the shoulders of you students lies the burden of pursuing truth.

Now you must establish habits of inquiry and habits of work. Whether you are entering or are returning to college, you will find yourself with many new opportunities about you. Your alertness and ability to adapt yourself to new ideas will do much to assure yourself realization, happiness, and success.

Every member of the staff and faculty stands ready to help you in every way possible.

May I take this occasion to invite you to the opening assembly of the school year.

Sincerely yours,
J. W. JONES

Rounds Announces Band Openings

Students who played in a high school band are eligible to play in the College Band. No tryouts are required for entrance.

The College Marching Band will play at each home football game this fall and plans one trip "away" with the team.

After football season the band becomes a concert group with smaller pep bands furnishing music at home basketball games.

Students may earn their 1 hr. required credit in physical education by successful participation in Marching Band. To do this the student must make out his class card for "P.E. 19—Marching Band." He will receive P.E. credit for successful completion of the semester's work in the College Marching Band.

The college owns some unusual instruments which may be checked out to students willing to play them in the band. The college band director, Mr. Rounds, will be happy to discuss such a matter with interested students.

However, all that is necessary for students to do to become a member of the College Marching Band is to sign a class card as indicated above at registration time, or later during the first week of school, and present himself or herself at the first regularly scheduled band rehearsal Wednesday September 14, 4:00 P.M. in room 414 of the Administration building.

The position of managing editor is open to a junior or senior with experience in journalism. Sports and Society editors are needed — experience and sophomore standing required.

Freshmen and upperclassmen may start in as reporters; no experience is needed.

And then: a paperboy: no experience, no class standing, just a strong back. This job takes about two hours a week—but it pays . . .

Fabulous Fifties Theme in 1960

Committee Reveals Plans For Homecoming Activities

"Fabulous Fifties" is the theme for 1960 Homecoming activities to be held Oct. 20-22. The committee in charge of this year's event took over early last spring, and plans are well underway.

Lucile Raney and Stan Morris were elected co-chairmen of the over-all committee. Dr. John Harr is faculty sponsor in charge of the event. They have named chairmen and committee members for various Homecoming activities, but organizations which have not as yet named representatives to the committee should do so, and these people will be added to committees.

Prexy Opens First Assembly

Five exceptional assemblies have already been scheduled for this school year according to Dr. Sterling Surrey, chairman of the assembly committee.

President J. W. Jones will address students at the opening assembly, Sept. 16. A film, "Dishonor System," will be shown also. This Armstrong Circle Theater production is on cheating.

The Singing Sergeants with the U. S. Air Force Band will appear on Oct. 12.

Dr. Wernher von Braun, rocket expert, will speak on Nov. 3. Dr. von Braun is also speaking at the state teachers' convention in Kansas City that week.

Eric Severeid and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas are scheduled for the spring.

Besides these all school assemblies, specialists will come to spend a day or two with individual departments.

Committee Plans New College Style

What's the college style, today?

This is not always a question that can be answered by reference to Vogue, Seventeen, or Esquire, for often "style" refers to the college requirements for writing a research paper.

At NWMSC style has for years been set by THE RESEARCH PAPER, "The Little Blue Book" by Mattie Dykes. It's all different now; the style changes this semester.

Dr. Frank Grube has revised the "Little Blue Book" to conform with the requirements of the NWMSC English department and with the standards of the University of Chicago style manual, A Manual for Writers of Dissertations by Kate L. Turabian (familiarly called, "Turabian").

Dr. Grube was authorized by the faculty council to choose a committee from the faculty to set standards of documentation and to settle some disputed usages.

The committee consists of Dr. John Harr, Dr. Sterling Surrey, Dr. Leon Miller, and Dr. Irene Mueller; Dr. Grube has continued as chairman. The revision of "the Little Blue Book" is part of its work.

It is planned that the new standards apply to both graduate and undergraduate work. However if the college becomes a graduate center of Missouri U. further changes may be needed.

"Songs of the Fifties" will be the theme for beauty float entries in the parade. "Comic Strips and Cartoons of the Fifties" is the theme for humor floats. House decorations will be fashioned after "Advertising and Slogans of the Fifties."

Ideas for floats for the parade and house decorations must be entered by Sept. 30. Entries for variety show skits already have been taken, and scripts must be entered by Sept. 30. Minor parade entries must be entered by Oct. 7.

The variety show will be presented the evenings of Oct. 20 and Oct. 21. Dr. Ralph Fulsom, head of the speech and dramatics department, will be organizational director for the show.

Each skit will have an early preliminary rehearsal. A week later each skit will have a progress rehearsal, and a week later each skit will have a polishing rehearsal. Dress rehearsals will be held the three evenings preceding presentation. Intermission acts must try out before and be approved by Dr. Fulsom.

Rules have been changed slightly for the Homecoming queen contest. These changes were made by representatives of the Homecoming committee and approved by the Student Senate.

Deadline for entrants in the contest is Sept. 30. Each entrant must have been on campus at least one regular semester preceding this semester. This excludes first semester freshmen and first semester transfer students. Each entrant must have at least a 1.0 grade point average and be backed by a body of 25 students. She must be properly registered and qualifications checked before the deadline date.

The contest will have as many contestants as meet the qualifications. There should be at least five. If there are more than five women entered, preliminary judging will be held to bring the number to five. If less than five are entered, all will become finalists. The student body election will result in the coronation of a queen with attendants not to exceed four.

The date of first fall meeting of the Homecoming committee will be announced. Organizations planning to participate are urged to have representatives at this meeting.

Working Through College Or Working the Prof?

"And the eleventh commandment," said the senior, "is: Don't get caught."

But what about the other ten? They're still on the books or in the Book rather.

People often try to dress up cheating; they call it liberating, kiking, lifting, or some other less harsh name. But putting cheating in Sunday clothes doesn't change the law; you can clip a poodle so that he looks like a lion but he is still a poodle at heart. Cheating is stealing; it is wrong morally and punishable legally.

In the spring semester of this year a number of students were caught trying to pass off as their own term papers which they had copied from someone else. Some of the guilty ones offered the excuse that this plagiarism was not as serious as cheating on a test. Actually it is much more serious.

No faculty member at NWMSC will accept such an excuse or any excuse for cheating.

Students who cheat are harmed morally; if such students are caught, they will be punished by the school.

But something needs to be said on the other side; why do students cheat? From the student's point of view what can the faculty do to discourage cheating?

A leading educator says that if the teacher takes an interest in the class while it is taking a test, there is less likely to be cheating.

Likewise the teacher should assure the student that his paper is being given a careful and considerate reading.

The same educator says that an excessive value placed on a test or on a paper in determining the semester's grade will encourage cheating. Too few tests have the same effect.

But the final responsibility is the student's.

Freshmen Need Orientation, Lab

All freshmen students must take Education I, Freshman Orientation, as a requirement for graduation.

This course is divided into two parts: (1) Three weeks of discussions about personal and/or social problems confronting new students on this campus and (2) Six weeks of orientation to effective reading presented by Mr. Ralph Cater in the reading laboratory.

After the first three weeks the freshmen will be divided into two groups. One group will meet in the reading course for the next six weeks. Then the second group will take six weeks of the course.

The value to be derived from this orientation insight and information may not be immediately evident to new students, but as the activities and requirements of college life unfold, such orientation will become more evident and useful, according to Dr. Koerble, dean of students.

Considering the amount of reading a college student is required to do, any improvement in his reading habits will assist him in successfully meeting the higher standards of college courses in comparison with his high school efforts, Mr. Cater said.

Need Singers For College

The College has two singing organizations both of which are open to college students regardless of major or minor fields of study.

The College Chorus, which meets on Tuesday and Thursday at 11 A.M., is open to all college students WITHOUT TRYOUTS.

All that is necessary to join the chorus is to sign a class card for "College Chorus" (no number necessary) and turn it in with other class cards at registration time—or make out such a card any time during the first week of school and turn it in to the Office of the Registrar.

The Tower Choir is a select group of singers. Tryouts are held to determine ability to perform in this group.

Students who wish to join the "Tower Choir", should arrange with Mr. Whitney for a tryout; or watch the bulletin boards for announcements of such tryouts.

Mr. Whitney's office is Ad. Bldg., Rm. 408.

Faculty Honor Miss Keith

Miss Mary Keith was honored July 31 by a reception given by the faculty. Miss Keith retired at the close of the summer session after teaching at the college since 1924.

Green Beanie Tradition

The green beanie is as much a state of mind as a head piece. Since it is tied up with Walk-out Day and with Kangaroo Courts, some freshmen become overanxious concerning this tradition.

But most students find, when they look back in later years, that the green beanie reminds them of a satisfying transition from the state of awesome naivete to that of sophisticated campus citizen.

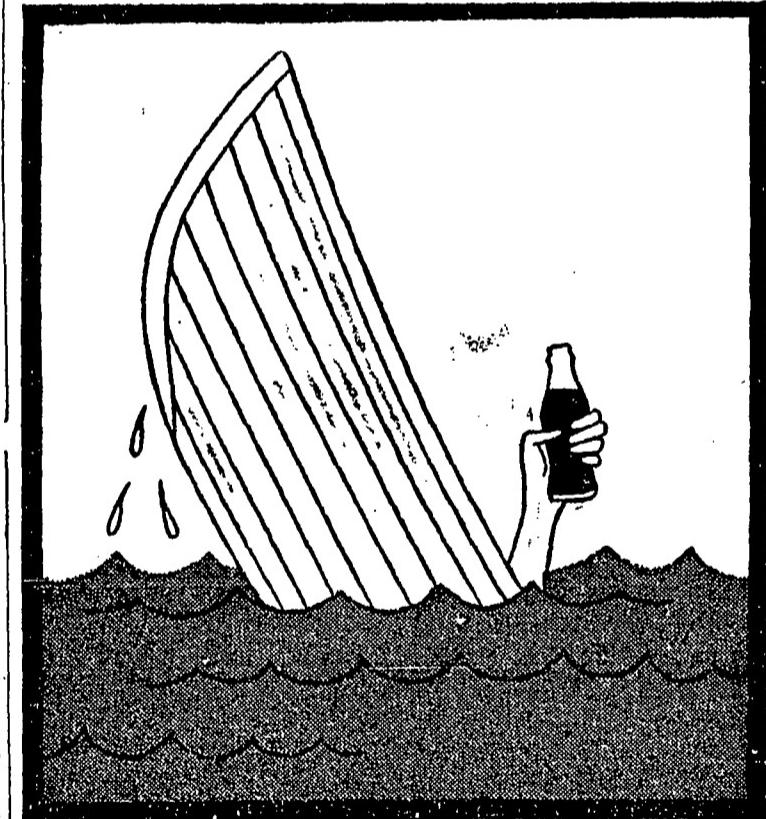

Perhaps the best defense against anxiety is to play the game according to rules and to take the rumors of upper-classmen with a grain of salt. Frosh will be well advised to watch and see what happens rather than to believe everything they hear.

It's No Secret—Test Scores to Be Revealed

Results of freshmen tests of the pre-registration orientation will be available in about three weeks. Announcement will be made in the Missourian and on bulletin boards.

After this announcement, each freshman should make an appointment with Dean of Students, Dr. Charles Koerble, for an interview. Dr. Koerble will interpret the tests for each freshman in terms of his strengths and weaknesses.

Test results will be kept on file in individual folders. Future employers or admissions officers of graduate schools will be interested in such data.

Sororities Will Rush Frosh This Semester

The annual Panhellenic tea, for women who are interested in joining a sorority, will be held Sept. 25 to open Rush Week activities at NWMSC. Individual rush parties will be held during the week following.

Members of the four sororities on campus—Sigma Sigma Sigma, Delta Zeta, Alpha Sigma Alpha and Zeta Lambda—will be hostesses for the Panhellenic tea.

Any unaffiliated woman may attend. Dress for rushees will include afternoon dresses or suits, heels, gloves, hats and bags.

Parties to Be Sept. 26-29

Delta Zeta and Sigma Sigma Sigma informal rush parties will be held Sept. 27. Formal parties will be held Sept. 28 and 29.

Representatives from each sorority comprise the local Panhellenic organization. Officers for this year are Margaret Neiby, president; Delila Duckworth, vice-president and treasurer; Evelyn Robison, secretary. Mrs. Martha Bladt, dean of women, is adviser.

The Panhellenic council makes rules for rushing and sets up some standards for membership in sororities. Under the local constitution, membership in each organization may not exceed 50.

Frats Limit Rushing Defer Until Spring

Frats will not rush new freshmen during the fall semester according to Dale Cramer, president of the student body.

Some upperclassmen will be rushed, but most frat rushing will be during the second semester.

Some frat men fear the new policy may harm homecoming because it will cut down on the labor available for building floats.

After all, initiation is in the hands of the students. If they wish, they can abolish it.

Hayes Heads POP for Business Ed Majors

Phil Hayes is president of Pi Omega Pi national honorary business education society for the coming year. Other officers include Marilyn White, vice-president; Deloris Polley, secretary; Lucile Raney, treasurer; Ron Cross, reporter; and Cecile Hoffman, historian.

Meetings are held bimonthly. Special activities planned for the year include field trips, two social hours, a Christmas party and the annual banquet.

The local chapter was organized in 1924 to create professional growth and to encourage scholarship in business education.

Candidates for membership in the organization must have at least 30 college hours including 12 hours in business and three hours in education and a 2.0 grade point average.

Ivory Tower? Office Changes Mark Growth

Then there was the freshman who spent all year looking for the Ivory Tower on the campus!

Upperclassmen as well as freshmen may have some difficulties locating places on the campus: there have been some changes made! Among others:

Dr. Charles Koerble, dean of students, has a new office on the first floor Ad. Bldg.

Dr. Robert Foster, dean of administration, now occupies the former office of the dean.

Dr. Leon Miller, dean of instruction, has a new office at Ad 215. The Northwest Missourian has moved from there to the ground floor of the J. W. Jones Classroom bldg.

The faculty lounge in the Ad bldg. is now next to the student lounge.

Happy hunting!

SON IS BORN TO FORMER STUDENTS

A son, Barry, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynch on June 30. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lynch are NWMSC alumni. Mrs. Lynch was on the staff of the Missourian last semester.

ACE Plans Party for Elementary Majors

The Association for Childhood Education will hold a get-acquainted party Wed., Sept. 21, 7 p.m., Miss Chloe Millikan, sponsor, announced.

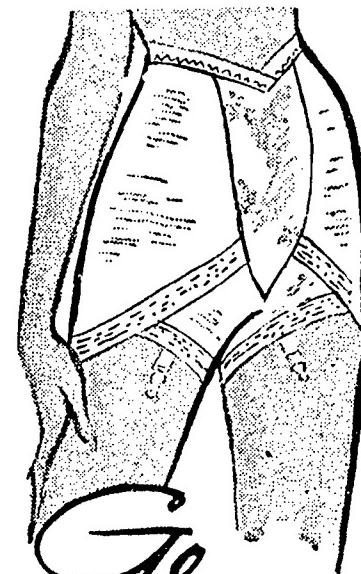

The ACE is a professional organization for students majoring in Elementary Ed.

The local chapter, organized in 1928 under the sponsorship of Miss Millikan, is the oldest professional organization at NWMSC. It maintains a close affiliation with both the state and the national groups and participates in all-campus efforts.

ACE meets on the second and fourth Wednesday evenings each month in the kindergarten room, Horace Mann.

Students Offered Awards In Intramural Program

By DALE CRAMER

President of the Student Body, Intramural Director

All new students are invited to take part in the intramural program at NWMSC which we think is one of the finest offered. Our motto is "sports for all." It is not necessary to register in a PE course to participate.

The program attempts to offer something for every man and woman in the college. Whether the student is interested in furthering his present skills or in developing new ones, there is a sport in which he can take part.

The fall season starts rolling with tennis, touch-football, wrestling, and swimming. In the winter months basketball, bowling, ping-pong, volleyball, smash, handball, badminton and swimming are offered. Softball, track, tennis, and golf come with spring.

Individual and team awards are given to the winner in each sport.

This year co educational activity will be introduced on a larger scale than in the past. This will give students an opportunity to broaden their social horizons.

All social facilities and equipment are available to those participating in the intramural program.

"Whatever your motive—the spirit of competition, development of skills, or getting a date—there are rewards for you in the intramural program."

PE Division Offers New Program With Improved Facilities

A new course of study is being offered by the Physical Education department. New activities are being ushered into the program as fast as the new Health and Physical Education building facilities allow.

Dr. Peterson, head of the department, says the aim of the program is to allow students to develop physically, mentally, and socially.

As part of this program, all men in required PE courses will be given the National Fitness Test twice each semester. This test, recommended by the American Association of Health, PE, and Recreation, includes pull-ups, sit-ups, jumping, running, and softball throwing checks.

Dr. Peterson pointed out that four areas are covered in the final evaluation of a student in a PE course: skill, fitness, knowledge, and citizenship.

He said: "The division hopes to aid students at NWMSC to appreciate the value of wholesome play activity in a well organized and healthful environment."
